

The inner life of a water filter

A video animation on this topic can be found online:

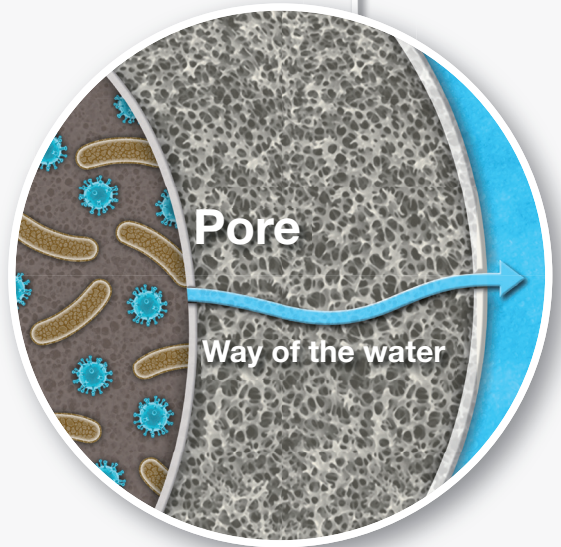

Filtration module with bundled membrane fibers.

Cross-section through one of the fibers containing seven capillaries.

Water passes through the pores with a diameter of 20 nanometers into the plastic and emerges to the outside.

= bacterium

= virus